Single Member LLC vs Sole Proprietor

Single Member LLC

- Entity separate from its owner
- Registered as an entity with RI Department of State
- Has liability protection—limited to investment
- Registration date—dissolution date
- Subject to annual charge (currently $400) on separate tax form for state purposes

Similarities

- Files Form 1040 reporting on Schedule C to pay federal income taxes
- Files RI-1040/RI-1040NR to pay state income tax on Federal AGI including Schedule C income

Sole Proprietor

- Owner is the entity
- Can register a trade name with local municipality
- Personal liability
- No dissolution to close business
- No separate filing requirement or annual charge

Frequently Asked Questions and Best Practices-Portal

Q: Why do I have to change my password so often?

A: For a few reasons:

- The State takes information security seriously.
- To protect sensitive tax information from identity theft.
- Former employees may have shared the password.

Q: Why does the system show “forecasted penalty” and “forecasted interest” if I have already remitted payment and are now filing the tax return?

A: If you are filing a return after your payment has been processed, the system will need to pair the return to the payment once the return is filed and processed.

Therefore, the system will present the “forecast” based on the amounts contained in the return you are submitting today.

Q: I filed the return. The portal indicated the amount due on the date I filed the return. I made the payment 10 days later. Why was the amount different?

A: : The forecasted penalty and interest is based on the date the return was filed not when the payment was made.

Interest and penalty will continue to accrue if there is an outstanding tax balance.

Compliance and Collections Section

Frequently Asked Questions and Best Practices-Collections

Q: Why is my license and registration blocked and what are my repayment options?

A: Under R.I. Gen. Laws § 31-3-6.1, a license/registration can be blocked due to delinquent filings and/or outstanding balances.

To release the block, the taxpayer must be filed up to date for the last seven (7) years and outstanding balances must be satisfied. A taxpayer may enter an installment agreement; certified funds must be remitted to release blocks.

Q: Does the State of Rhode Island have a hardship/deferment program?

A: The RI Division of Taxation does not have a non-collectible status but does have options for taxpayers facing financial hardship such as installment agreements and offers in compromise.

Q: Is 50% down required to enter into an installment agreement?

A: A highly likely acceptance for balances greater than $1,000 is 50% down and full payment in 12 monthly installments.

However, if that is not possible, then we will work with a taxpayer upon completion of the income and expense portion of the agreement request form.
